We're Your Community

“I am of the opinion that my life belongs to the whole community and as long as I live, it is my privilege to do for it whatever I can.”

George Bernard Shaw

"I've developed friendships through TSSUS that have lasted a lifetime - for more years than I care to count. I know I have a core group of women I can count on, travel with, and who understand me and what life is like with TS."

Woman with TS

"This was my 1st conference and it was amazing! I had such a wonderful time. I am so glad that I made it a priority to attend. Our 4-year-old was diagnosed 2 years ago, and we are still learning so much. I loved, loved meeting moms and butterflies. It was great to feel, if for only 3 days, our lives were the societal norm – where no one stared at you or asked intrusive questions, where everyone understood on a deep, soul level what you were going through, and that there is so much hope on the other side of diagnosis. I am filled with endless gratitude, love and hope. That's a direct reflection of my membership and participation with the TSSUS. Thank you!"

At some point in all our lives, we feel like an outsider, "other than," or like we don't fit in. For many with Turner syndrome (TS), that feeling is an unwelcomed constant. Through national signature events like the TSSUS National Turner Syndrome Conference, Chasing Butterflies Walks, and TS Days, and through TSSUS Resource Groups and local events, people with TS and those that care for them are finding a supportive, nurturing community where each person is loved and respected for their uniqueness.

"My daughter feels like she has a place where she belongs, and no one is going to judge her. She knows everyone understands and accepts her for who she is. She can be herself."
